June 1, 2018

Welcome to UC San Diego and congratulations on your admission to the doctoral program!

We are excited to have you join us as the members of the 2018 entering cohort of the Sociology Doctoral Program! In this document, I will provide you with some information and dates that will hopefully prove helpful as you prepare to begin classes this fall. If you are ever unsure about what pertains to you, please do not hesitate to contact me or any of the department staff mentioned on the following pages. In this packet, you will find:

- Sociology Department General Information
- UC San Diego Principles of Community
- Tentative Orientation Schedule
- 2018-2019 Academic Calendar
- Sociology Tentative Graduate Course List
- Registration Information and Coursework
- Directory of Other Campus Resources
- Fall 2018 Cohort

In an effort to streamline the graduate student orientation experience and reduce information overload and redundancy, I'm encouraging all new students to attend the UC San Diego Graduate Student Orientation, hosted by the Graduate Division, on Wednesday, September 12. Sociology will then host a more focused Sociology Orientation on Thursday, September 20. This orientation will familiarize you with the department, the doctoral program, course curriculum and milestones, and others aspects of being a graduate student in Sociology. Also, be sure to check out Graduate Division's Admitted Student Website that walks you through all the things you might need to do prior to arriving on campus.

Hopefully, you will find these scheduled events helpful as you transition to the start of your studies in San Diego. Of course, the faculty and staff are here to help you out at any time, so if you have additional questions about coursework, housing, transportation or graduate life, please e-mail me at tneckert@ucsd.edu or call me at (858) 534-4626 or any of the contacts within this letter.

Have a wonderful summer. We are all very excited and looking forward to your arrival!

Sincerely,
Teresa Eckert

UCSD Principles of Community

The University of California, San Diego is dedicated to learning, teaching, and serving society through education, research, and public service. Our international reputation for excellence is due in large part to the cooperative and entrepreneurial nature of the UCSD community. UCSD faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to be creative and are rewarded for individual as well as collaborative achievements.

To foster the best possible working and learning environment, UCSD strives to maintain a climate of fairness, cooperation, and professionalism. These principles of community are vital to the success of the university and the well-being of its constituents. UCSD faculty, staff, and students are expected to practice these basic principles as individuals and in groups.

- We value each member of the UCSD community for his or her individual and unique talents, and applaud all efforts to enhance the quality of campus life. We recognize that each individual's effort is vital to achieving the goals of the university.
- We affirm each individual's right to dignity and strive to maintain a climate of justice marked by mutual respect for each other.
- We value the cultural diversity of UCSD because it enriches our lives and the university. We celebrate this diversity and support respect for all cultures, by both individuals and the university as a whole.
- We are a university that adapts responsibly to cultural differences among the faculty, staff, students, and community.
- We acknowledge that our society carries historical and divisive biases based on race, ethnicity, gender, age, disability, sexual orientation, religion, and political beliefs. Therefore, we seek to foster understanding and tolerance among individuals and groups, and we promote awareness through education and constructive strategies for resolving conflict.
- We reject acts of discrimination based on race, ethnicity, gender, age, disability, sexual orientation, religion, and political beliefs, and we will confront and appropriately respond to such acts.
- We affirm the right to freedom of expression at UCSD. We promote open expression of our individuality and our diversity within the bounds of courtesy, sensitivity, confidentiality and respect.
- We are committed to the highest standards of civility and decency toward all.
- We are committed to promoting and supporting a community where all people can work and learn together in an atmosphere free of abusive or demeaning treatment.
- We are committed to the enforcement of policies that promote the fulfillment of these principles.

We represent diverse races, creeds, cultures, and social affiliations coming together for the good of the university and those communities we serve. By working together as members of the UCSD community, we can enhance the excellence of our institution.

FALL 2018 GRADUATE STUDENT ORIENTATION TENTATIVE SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

UC San Diego Graduate Division's New Graduate Student Orientation

Wednesday, September 12, location and time TBD

The Graduate Division will be hosting a welcome and keynote address in the morning with light breakfast provided, followed by an overview of the services that Graduate Division provides to graduate students. In previous years, lunch is served and then followed by a Student Resource Fair. The fair will provide you with an introduction to the many resources and services available to graduate students at UC San Diego.

Throughout the day a number of concurrent graduate workshops will be held. You will have a chance to meet new graduate students from other departments on campus and hear a variety of faculty speak on several topics, as well as student-led panels. Details about the workshops and registration for this event can be found at <https://grad.ucsd.edu/gradlife/orientation.html>.

ENROLLMENT & REGISTRATION AND OTHER IMPORTANT LINKS

ENROLLMENT AND REGISTRATION CALENDAR

For information about enrollment and registration deadlines, availability and release of Schedule of Classes, add and drop deadlines, billing and fee payment deadlines, grading options, etc.

SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

At the end of the 5th week of each quarter, a new schedule for the following quarter is released via Tritonlink with a comprehensive listing of the courses available on campus. This is the most up-to-date and authoritative source for scheduling your courses.

ACADEMIC and ADMINISTRATIVE CALENDAR

Use this calendar to plan around holidays and quarterly instructional breaks, like winter break and spring break.

BILLING

You may periodically receive an e-bill to your Tritonlink account displaying charges for fees and/or tuition. If you have been awarded a financial support package (fee and/or tuition scholarship support), these will automatically be paid by the department. You may be charged a Document Fee \(one-time, newly admitted students\), the department does not cover this. If you have questions, please contact the graduate coordinator.

Q: What Should I Be Enrolling in?

A: To register for classes, please use the student portal here: <http://students.ucsd.edu>. Click on the 'My Tritonlink tab.' You will need to have set-up your e-mail and UCSD account (see next page).

For most incoming students, these SOCIOLOGY GRADUATE COURSES are REQUIRED for Fall 2018. You should enroll in these courses:

- SOCG 200 *Intro Methods/Epistemology (4 units) with Prof. Akos Rona-Tas
- SOCG 201 *Classical Sociological Theory (4 units) with Prof. Richard Biernacki
- SOCG 208 *Faculty Research Seminar (2 units, S/U) with Prof. Isaac Martin

ENROLL in at least one additional 4 unit course graduate level Sociology course, or 4 unit graduate level course outside the department (if you have questions, please consult with graduate coordinator) to meet or exceed the minimum 12 units required.

If you are a SOCIOLOGY/SCIENCE STUDIES student, these SCIENCE STUDIES CORE COURSES are offered in Fall 2018:

- SOCG 255A Intro to Science Studies: Part 1 (4 units)
- SOCG 255C Colloquium in Science Studies (4 units), REQUIRED

It is highly recommended that Sociology/Science Studies students seek advising early on in the quarter. For more information about specific Science Studies program requirements, please consult our website <http://sociology.ucsd.edu/graduate/ScienceStudies.shtml>, or contact Professor Daniel Navon (dnavon@ucsd.edu), Sociology Faculty Advisor to the Science Studies Program, to schedule an appointment.

OTHER ITEMS TO CONSIDER UPON YOUR ARRIVAL

E-mail

Individual emails have been set up for you by Academic Computing and Media Services (ACMS). If you have not accessed or set-up your accounts, you can do so now. You can look up your accounts details to get started and then set your password using the Global Password Change Tool.

Graduate Student Housing Listserv

The housing listserv is especially for UCSD graduate students who have off-campus or on-campus housing needs or housing opportunities to share. Students post their own messages regarding housing needs. To subscribe or unsubscribe from the listserv, visit <http://mailman.ucsd.edu/mailman/listinfo/grad-housing-op-1>. Current subscribers can also access an archive of past list postings. If you have questions or trouble subscribing to the grad housing listserv, contact the GradLife Intern at gradlife@ucsd.edu. Once you are on the listserv send your messages by email to grad-housing-op-1@mailman.ucsd.edu.

On Campus - <http://hdh.ucsd.edu/arch/gradhousing.asp> UC San Diego Associated Residential Community Housing (ARCH) offers housing to eligible graduate and professional students in five residential communities.

Off Campus - offcampushousing.ucsd.edu Campus listing/board for UCSD community plus areas descriptions. Requires username and password.

CAMPUS ID CARDS/Student (Triton) Cards

All students enrolled for the current school quarter are entitled to a Triton Card. This is your official university ID card, and you are issued just one active card. The ID card allows you to cash checks, use the library, seek health services, etc. Prior to arriving at UCSD, graduate students may submit their photo electronically to the Campus Card office using Photo Tool before August 1st and your card will be ready for pick-up. This is helpful to avoid long lines applying for a new card at the Campus Card Office (Student Services Center) once the quarter starts.

Once you arrive on campus:

- Have a picture ID available to verify your identity when you pick up your card. You can use your driver's license, passport, state ID card, or other photo ID.
- No hats, sunglasses, or other objects are allowed in your picture. Your face must be clearly visible, smiling, and facing forward.
- Photo must be in color; brightness, contrast, and cropping must be reasonable.

If you do not submit your photo by the August 1st deadline:

- Get a photo and ID card at Student Business Services \(map\) when the quarter begins.
- Your card will be usually be given to you by your department.
- Please stop by Student Business Services \(map\) to pick up your card if your department representative has not already provided it to you.
- Contact your department if you need a Triton Card before the quarter begins. They will need to provide you with a formal letter indicating your start date.
- Your card will not be activated until the quarter in which you are enrolled.

OFFICE SPACE

Each incoming Graduate Student will be assigned an office space in the department; our offices are shared space with most students having their own desk. Internet availability is provided via wi-fi connection. We do not supply computers or telephones in the offices. The Sociology Graduate Library is equipped with two computers and a printer which is available for short projects and to check email. Large printing should be taken to IMPRINTS (<http://blink.ucsd.edu/sponsor/imprints/>). The graduate student community is allocated a set amount of printer paper. Beyond the community allowance, students are responsible for their own printer paper. A copy machine and fax machine are available for use in the department mail room and a copy account can be set up in the main office. Each student will have a mailbox in the Department Mail Room.

During Orientation, you will be given the opportunity to check into your office. Keys must be checked out from Jillian Tracy, Instructional and Fiscal Assistant, in the Sociology main office SSB, room 401.

KEYS & SECURITY CODES

All keys are checked out by the Instructional and Fiscal Assistant, Jillian Tracy, and all PhD students will be provided an Omni Lock Code to access the Department Mail Room, where you have a personal mailbox to receive US Mail, messages from students, staff and faculty, and notices of priority packages or items too large to fit in your mail box; The Omni Lock Code also grants you access to the Activities Room and Grad Library. Additionally, you will be given a Security Code to access the Computer Lab in the Social Science Building, as well as your sign-on user ID and password (which you are recommended to change).

FACULTY ADVISORS/MENTORS

You will be assigned a provisional faculty advisor for one year –this will be provided at orientation. This provisional advisor is here to help you with your socialization and professionalization into the Graduate Program. They should check-in with you regularly during the first year to discuss your work, class schedule and overall adjustment to the program. You are not obligated to stay matched with this advisor and may ask the Graduate Coordinator or Director of the Graduate Program, to make another appointment if necessary. Please determine which faculty member you would like assigned to you and discuss your assignment with that faculty member in advance and obtain her/his approval BEFORE you make a request for change of advisor.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Health Insurance begins when the quarter starts, 12:01am September 24 or the day of the student's orientation, if scheduled earlier (International/Graduate Division). For those attending the Graduate Division Orientation scheduled on Wednesday, September 12, 2018, health insurance will be effective beginning September 10, 2018.

There are no forms to fill out to be covered. Premiums are automatically paid with your registration fees. If you have additional questions about health insurance or coverage under the University's plan, please go to: <http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu/>.

Health Fee Waiver:

<http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu/ucshipwaiver.shtml>

The Health Fee Waiver application is available on-line via Tritonlink. Waivers must be submitted by the waiver deadline (on or before 9/21/18). Students must be enrolled in classes for Fall 2018 in order to access the waiver on-line. If a student is unable to access or complete the waiver application on-line, or if they will not be enrolled by the waiver deadline, it is the student's responsibility to contact the Student Health Insurance Office before the waiver deadline to discuss their situation on an individual basis. A manual waiver form is available on an exception basis only, however the waiver deadline will still apply. Upon submission of their application, their waiver will be approved or selected for audit. An e-mail will be sent to the student's official UCSD e-mail account advising whether their application was approved or selected for audit.

Important note: If a waiver is not submitted during the first quarter for which a graduate student attends UCSD and is eligible to waive SHIP, the policy requires that coverage under SHIP remain in force for the remainder of the academic year and a new waiver may not be submitted until the next academic year.

Fall 2018 Waiver deadline:

Waiver deadline to avoid a $50 late fee: September 21, 2018

Late waiver deadline, subject to a $50 late fee: September 28, 2018

Refer to the Student Health website at <http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu/> for more information regarding the services available at Student Health, SHIP and the Health Fee Waiver process. There are many FAQ's answered on the website.

COHORT 2018

Lastly, here is the Fall 2018 Cohort along with what city/country of current residence and research area of interest!

Student	Primary Research Interest
Fang, Weiai Beijing, China	I hope to enhance my understanding of internal migration in developing countries by studying its domestic and intra-national intersections. Migration and immigration, inequality, social transformations, social policy and citizenship are areas that I am most interested in, and in which I believe I can accomplish the most substantial research achievements. I realize that the restriction of internal migration is neither a regional-specific phenomenon that only takes place in China, nor is it an independent social problem. A similar system like hukou exists in Japan (Koseki), Vietnam(hộ khẩu), hoju in South Korea (abolished in 2008), and North Korea; and has its counterparts in the Soviet Union (Propiska) and Russia (Resident registration). I would like to study the associations among these systems and the measures that each country takes to manage its population. In terms of its exclusive mechanism, resemblance can also be found in institutions like India's Caste system. Meanwhile, the domestic policy barriers towards the migrant populations in these countries have further contributed to the augmentation of the international immigrant population. The process of globalization, in turn, indirectly exacerbates developing countries' regulations on internal migration. Internal migration is also intertwined with problems such as poverty, education and employment inequality, difficulty in accessing social subsidies, and so on. For me, these are valuable questions that are worthy of conducting more in-depth research and devising viable solutions.
Graham, Ross Nashville, Tennessee	Sociology of Science - How non-governmental institutions leverage regulatory loopholes and extreme wealth concentration to undermine climate science in the public mind.
Hildebrand-Chupp, Rowan Portland, Oregon	My primary research interest is the sociology of mental health, especially the relationship between standards of mental health and gender & sexual minority communities. I'm interested in the historical relationship between the US classification of mental illness and lesbian and gay activism: how did lesbian and gay activism influence the construction of the DSM? What role did classification as a psychiatric illness play in heterosexist oppression? I am also interested in the downstream influence of the removal of "homosexuality" from the DSM on the asexual, transgender, and BDSM/kink communities.
Lopez Ricoy, Ana Mexico City, Mexico	In 2015, 17-year-old Daphne was sexually assaulted by four school mates in eastern Mexico; more than a year after the legal prosecution started, the judge absolved the accused young men due to lack of evidence. In 2016 a female reporter's sexual aggression was captured on video when she had her underwear pulled down in the middle of a public park in Mexico City; when she made the incident public in social media she received multiple death and rape threats from anonymous men. These stories grasped the public attention and were widely covered in national news. In response, the 24th of April of 2016 thousands of women and men flooded the streets of the main cities in Mexico, mobilizing against "machista" violence. This was known as the

	“Purple Spring”, a historical mobilization that has sparked public discussions on gender based violence as a pressing issue in the country. These events would've been hardly possible in the Mexico of the 20th Century. How are public issues shaped by such emblematic cases or public demonstrations? Which events contribute to new understandings of traditionally silenced and taboo issues such as sexual violence? Are new frames and policy changes enough to achieve change in gender relations? Who has to mobilize and what do they have to do to result in peoples' daily lives being transformed? Most of my career I've tried to answer these questions. As a PhD student, I would like to continue looking into how social movements and CSOs interact with the State and influence public policy processes. I have always used historical revisions to look at changes in how issues are framed, in public policies and specific events that might have triggered these transformations. I want to strengthen my research with a more informed historical and sociological analysis. I want to narrow the subject of study to sexual violence as a public issue, integrating gender theory and looking at male-female power relations. I would like to explore the possibility of a comparative perspective with the United States.

Muniz, Iman Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic	At UCSD, I would focus on a comparative-historical study exploring race, gender, sexuality, and violence in the Spanish Caribbean in comparison to non-Spanish Caribbean. The Spanish Caribbean population is in the particular situation of having a dual sense of identity as Latin Americans, as well as Caribbean. I want to explore how their culture becomes a platform where a set of Latin American values battle Afro Caribbean ones, and how that informs trends of racially-related State and civil violence. I believe an important case study is that of the Dominican Republic and Haiti. As the only island in the world that is occupied by two completely distinct countries - bearing different languages, spiritual beliefs, ethnicities, and economies- they have each negotiated identity and political discourse in stark opposition to one another, with race and ethnicity at the center of their disparate national ideals and contentious relationship.

I want to investigate the process of conception and evolution of identities (particularly ethnic and national identities), their components, and their relation to ethnic conflict, nationalism, and democratization.
